EMPTYING POCKETS—Troops of the 31st Regiment of the U. S. 7th Division do some mopping up in a trouble spot infested with North Korean Reds. Although the North Korean Communist Army below the 38th parallel has been broken up, there are a number of "diehards" who have formed small pockets of resistance that have to be cleared out.

Red Strike In Austria Fails

Work Resumed After Two Days Of Terror

VIENNA, Austria, Oct. 6—(AP)—Communism today suffered one of its most crushing recent defeats in Europe as Austria returned to normal after two days of Red terror.

Trains were running on schedule again. Street cars operated unhindered, and 50,000 striking Reds went back to work.

Ten days of Communist efforts to foment a general strike to terrorize the country, to isolate its capital and perhaps to set up a rump government were abandoned at midnight.

The Communist leaders called off their ineffective two-day-old general strike and within minutes Red demonstrators took down barricades which yesterday closed all but one of Vienna's main rail lines and froze traffic from the capital into the Soviet zone.

The Reds gave up in the face of calm resistance by the rest of the Austrians, who since the 12th century have sat at the crossroads of the east and west and repeatedly have thrown back eastern aggression.

The bulk of the country's laborers ignored the Communist strike call. The non-Communists courageously battled fanatic young Reds for control of factories, power plants, transport facilities and government buildings.

The Reds said they called off their strike because of "western pressure."

A purge of Red leadership was definitely in the cards as a result of the fiasco. But that was of secondary importance. More important was that Austria would safely remain the west's easternmost stronghold on the fringes of Russia's defense line in Europe.

Police Seek Killer Of Medina Farmer

MEDINA, Oct. 6—(AP)—A young farmer was wounded fatally outside his home last night by an ambush killer. Sheriff's deputies said today they were looking for a man who had tried to force his attentions on the farmer's German war bride.

The victim was Harold Mast, 23. A pistol shot struck him in the back outside the door of his house as he returned from a GI farming course at nearby Seville. His wife Randi, 24, and five other persons were inside the house and heard the shot.

Mrs. Mast rushed to her husband's side and asked him who shot him.

He replied, "I don't know."

He died early today in Community Hospital here.

Deputies said Mrs. Mast told them a man had threatened three months ago to kill her husband if she did not obtain a divorce and marry him. She said she would have nothing to do with the man.

The Masts were married three years ago in Germany, where Mast was a medical corpsman with the Army occupation forces. They have a two-year-old daughter.

CIO Official Resigns To Support Taft

NILES, Oct. 6—(AP)—Pledging his support to Sen. Taft of Ohio, the treasurer of the Trumbull County CIO Council today announced his resignation in protest of "the attempted political domination of the CIO Political Action Committee."

Otto L. Lyman, the treasurer, said he recently had been severely criticized by his council because he appeared in a picture with Taft when the Senator visited here.

In his resignation which he said he would submit Sunday, Lyman added:

"I have been diligent in my work for the American workman and now I am told that this work is but secondary to the political campaign to purge Sen. Robert A. Taft from office."

"I have been told that all of our efforts, our funds and our resources are to be expended to defeat Sen. Taft for re-election. I do not believe that this is the purpose for which the CIO was created."

"The CIO was created for the equality and freedom of the workmen. It was not created as a political party nor was it created as a dictatorial policy to rule our every action in life."

Lyman said he would vote for Taft because he had a fine record and "I sincerely believe that it shows that he has voted for the benefit of the rank and file workman."

Lyman pointed out that he had been a union member since 1914.

Girl, 7, Killed By School Bus

WARREN, Oct. 6—(AP)—A seven-year-old school girl was struck and killed by a school bus late yesterday after she got off with a group of children.

The accident occurred at a Newton Falls housing project where the youngsters lived.

Patrolman W. H. Rider quoted witnesses as saying the victim, Judy Walters, 7, stopped and stooped over as she crossed in front of the bus with about a dozen other children.

The driver apparently believed all were across, started up and ran over her. No charges were placed against him immediately.

End Of Korean War Won't Alter U.S. Mobilization

No Let-Up Permitted In Draft; Want Army Of Up To 1,500,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—(AP)—An early end of the Korean war may make a difference in how the United States deploys its military force but leave unchanged the program for building that force up to a 3,000,000-man strength.

All evidence today pointed to continuation of the rearmament program, including more manpower, even if the shooting in the Far East stops soon. Plans reportedly were under serious consideration to boost the Air Force up to 95 to 110 groups.

President Truman said last week there must be no let-up in the defense program. High military officials since then have told Congress the program was planned before hostilities started in Korea and that the war triggered it.

Draft To Continue
Moreover, Pentagon spokesmen said today that as far as they knew the calling up of reserves and draftees would go ahead without change, whatever happens in Korea.

The size of the army may range between 1,000,000 and 1,500,000. It was 591,000 a week after the Korean war started. Programs now under way give an indication of how its strength is being swelled. Calls, voluntary and mandatory, have gone out so far to about 130,000 reserve men and officers. These individuals are in addition to the personnel of units already called or alerted for federal service, including the national guard divisions, a regimental combat team and various unspecified reserve organizations.

There is, in addition, the effect of the draft, just beginning to show in Army strength. Draft calls for the first six months after renewal of the Selective Service law will total approximately 330,000. On top of that will be the volunteer manpower input.

However, these statistical additions do not mean that is a net increase for the Army. In addition to expanding the size of the Army, they must also offset losses through expiring enlistments and other factors. Moreover, the effective force is reduced by casualties, latest incomplete figures on which are 20,756.

May Increase

The Air Force, which on Sept. 23 had a strength of 486,000 may go to 80,000. This figure seems to be predicated on a substantial increase in the number of plane groups operated by the USAF. The Air Force started out the war with 48. Reports now say the total may rise to between 95 and 110 groups.

A joint chiefs of staff recommendation for that strength is reported under study by secretary of Defense Marshall. The air arm has been getting its manpower for the buildup from among its 377,000 reserves and from volunteers, which have been running as high as 19,000 a month.

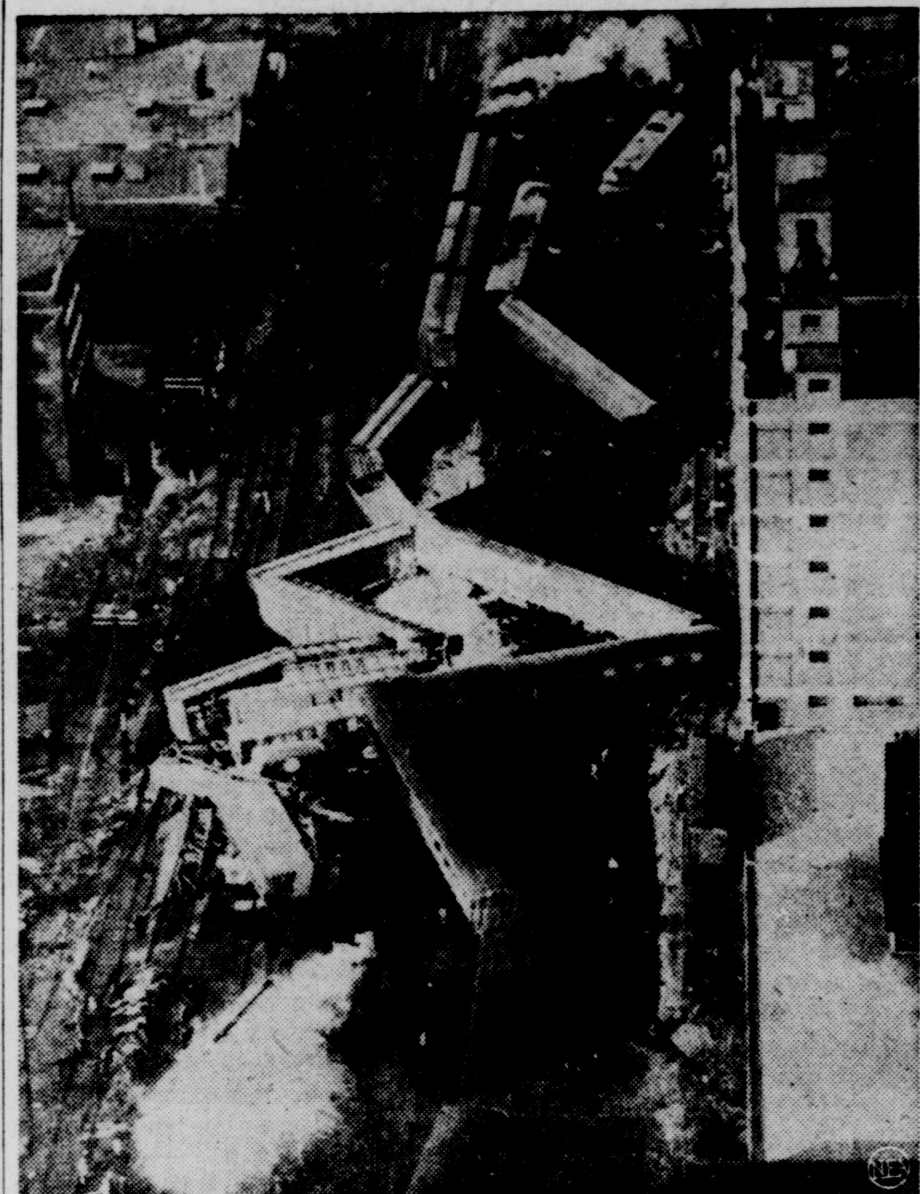

The Navy, which started out the war with about 375,500 men, said some weeks ago it had issued calls to 53,000 reservists and planned to call 35,000 more. It is bringing in between 15,000 and 20,000 of its reserve officers. Its original goal for next June 30, to be met with these reservists and with recruits, was 579,000. But to fit into the 3,000,000-man defense picture, it may be expanded to a total strength of about 700,000.

The Marine Corps, now at 123,600-man strength, may be boosted to 326,000, if Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the house armed services committee has his way. He frequently does.

Crime Probe Finds Secrecy In Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 6—(AP)—A U. S. senate crime investigating committee sought today to pierce the veil of secrecy surrounding the ramifications of Chicago's criminal activities.

The committee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn)—after hearing from top law enforcement officials at yesterday's open session—planned to question a varied assortment of witnesses today.

The committee, however, can't find many of the persons it would like to query about Chicago's crime. Fifty-one persons for whom committee subpoenas have been issued have disappeared. Many of the names on the list are well known in the annals of the old Al Capone gang.

There were several underworld characters at the U. S. courthouse yesterday in answer to summonses to testify. They included two brothers of the late notorious Scarface Al. But none got called.

Also ready to testify but not called were lawyers, politicians, accountants and racing news men.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson was scheduled to be among the first to appear at today's closed hearing before the committee.

Lausche, Ebright Trade Oratory

Governor Candidates On Campaign Tours

COLUMBUS, Oct. 7—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche took a breather from his re-election campaign tour today, while State Treasurer Don H. Ebright, the Republican opponent, toured Highland county.

The governor, who made seven speeches in northwestern Ohio yesterday, was back at his office in the statehouse.

Ebright, in an address at a luncheon in Greenfield, asserted that Gov. Lausche is using "more stalling tactics" in "purposely delaying the construction of a dam" in Rocky Fork (Highland county).

The governor, addressing a Democratic rally in Marion last night, said "excess profits" must be taken out of the war. He did not mention Ebright in any of yesterday's speeches.

"It isn't fair," Lausche said, "for young Americans to die on the battlefield while we are divided at home. We must take the excess profits out of war so the young Americans on the battlefields will know that no one is profiting by his bloodshed."

The governor did not name any items of excess profit.

Ebright told his Greenfield audience that the governor has delayed construction of a state lake and dam on Rocky Fork, near Hillsboro. The legislature, added Ebright, earmarked an appropriation of $650,000 for the project.

The governor also told his Marion audience:

"The time has come when Americans must quit fighting among themselves. A political campaign is now on. Make it a good campaign. But let's make certain that when the campaign fight is over, we're all Americans and all united."

The governor also spoke yesterday at Ohio Northern university, and in Findlay, Tiffin, Upper Sandusky and Bucyrus.

Red Casualties 200,000 Thus Far, Is Report

TOKYO, Oct. 6—(AP)—South Korean troops punched 20 miles deeper into Communist North Korea today on the east coast while other Allied forces massed for the expected big push to the Red heartland.

The forward South Koreans were more than 75 miles beyond parallel 38, the border where they had crossed into enemy territory last Sunday.

Arrayed below the boundary was the bulk of the poised 175,000 United Nations troops. Air and naval support was ready for an offensive.

Another vise apparently was being forged to crush the remnants of the reeling Reds—officially estimated by MacArthur's headquarters to have suffered 200,000 casualties since their June 25 invasion.

Forty thousand of the Red manpower losses were listed as war prisoners of the Allies.

A MacArthur spokesman declined to speculate on how many of the Red casualties were dead men.

The Reds' heaviest losses of men—and materiel—have been suffered since Sept. 15 when the Allies leaped to the offensive climaxed by the liberation of Seoul and entrapment of Red divisions in the south.

Of the 40,000 Communist prisoners-of-war, 14,028 were listed as taken in three day this week. This presumably was in the continuing mopping up of stragglers bands widely scattered in the south and around Seoul.

Resistance Light
The deep plunge into North Korea on the east coast was reported by AP Correspondent William Jorden, traveling with the South Koreans.

Jorden said the South Korean third division pushed off after an artillery exchange with the Reds near Changjon, some 60 miles north of parallel 38, and by night-fall had neared Tongchon.

There was virtually no Red resistance. A blown-up bridge slowed the advance for a few hours.

Tongchon is 32 miles southeast of Wonsan, big Red industrial center on the east coast.

The Reds abandoned equipment to the oncoming South Koreans in their haste to break off combat and flee.

Communist prisoners taken in the long drive northward have reported a stand would be made at Wonsan, or on its outskirts. Prisoners taken Thursday said they heard Russian advisers were helping prepare fortifications there.

At Wonsan, and along a line stretching from Haeju on the west coast, to Hwachon in the central-east sector, the Reds rushed work on defenses above parallel 38.

MacArthur's repeated surrender demands that began Sunday were still ignored.

New Pincers Plan?
The steady push of the South Korean Third division on the dusty coastal road toward Wonsan appeared to be taking on added significance. The possibility of a sledgehammer land-sea air concentration against the Red industrial center was pointed up by these other events:

1—Conferences between Capt. Fred Steller, chief of staff of the east coastal naval support fleet, and Gen. Lee Cong Chan of the South Korean army;

2—Re-establishment of Ponghwa airstrip—some 250 miles south of Wonsan—as a U. S. Fifth air force fighter base for close support of Korean republican east coast forces; and

3—A flying visit to the east coast just below parallel 38 last weekend by Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, U. S. Eighth army commander, and Maj. Gen. Earle E. Partridge, U. S. Fifth air force commander.

To these factors could be added the fact that the republican Third division has plumed northward without apparent regard for its lengthening supply line from South Korea.

Wonsan's capture could start two big Allied prongs aimed at the Red capital of Pyongyang. One, westward from Wonsan, the other shooting up north from Seoul, the liberated republican capital 125 miles southeast of

BECAUSE Columbiana is situated in an industrial district in which salaries and values are higher than the average in the state and because Columbiana ranks eighth from the bottom in teacher salaries among the exempted school districts in the state, better pay for teachers is advocated by the school authorities.

The Columbiana average for teachers is $2,390 per year as compared with a state average of $2,700 among exempted districts. The combined average of all schools in the state is $3,010.

Ignorance Is The Enemy

OFFHAND dismissals of Harold E. Stassen's letter to Premier Stalin as just so much wasted effort are shortsighted.

They are part of the protective cynicism with which Americans have cloaked themselves as protection against being played for suckers by a cynical group of Russians in the Kremlin.

Mr. Stassen believes, in the case of Stalin, that he may be able to penetrate the iron curtain of that Russian's ignorance about the intentions of the American people and their government.

He believes this because in 1947 when he talked to Stalin he made statements which Stalin did not then believe but which have proved to be true. He hopes this may drive a kind of a wedge into Stalin's mind.

Mr. Stassen now makes additional statements to Stalin which are in conflict with Kremlin policies. Thus he hopes to raise a doubt in the mind of the premier of the Soviet Union about his own advisers.

This may be wasted effort.

But if so, it still is worth while. It strengthens the position of the United States in its case before world opinion. The State Department, for instance, welcomes the move. It is something the State Department could not do gracefully. President Truman could not do it gracefully. But Mr. Stassen as a private citizen, can try to penetrate Premier Stalin's ignorance without becoming involved in official negotiations with the Russian government.

Marxism, insofar as it is a source of Russian policies, is the epitome of ignorance. Marx's conclusions were based on evidence which no longer exists anywhere except in the minds of embittered Marxists.

Stalin himself, however shrewd he may be, is the prisoner of his own ignorance about the world he lives in. He depends for his information on people who are unable to speak without prejudice.

The most Mr. Stassen or any other non-Communist could hope to do under the circumstances would be to reach Premier Stalin's mind.

If Kaiser Wilhelm or Reichsfuehrer Hitler had been less ignorant they might never have precipitated two world wars in this century. If Premier Stalin could be shown the shape and extent of the misinformation he has been given about the United States, he might hesitate to precipitate a third world war in this century.

Cynics who say this isn't worth trying need to think twice. Anything which might avert further misery for the people of good faith in this world, including millions of Russians being kept in ignorance of the outside world, is worth trying.

We Won, But - - -

THE UNITED STATES, fighting under the banner of the United Nations, has won the main action in the Korean war. But it's no time to shrug off misgivings with the empty-headed boast, "we licked 'em, didn't we?"

We licked a satellite military force whose existence was not even recognized by our own militarists until it swarmed over the 38th Parallel and routed the U.S. trained defenders of the Korean republic.

The licking was administered at the cost of wholesale disturbances to the economy of the United States, a full-fledged threat of inflation and an excuse for authoritarians to get their hands on the throat of private enterprise.

It was made possible by extremely heavy casualties to U.S. forces which were hustled off to Korea half-trained and half-equipped. It finally was clinched by an emergency mobilization of National Guardsmen and reservists who cannot be expected to accept the prospect of long-time duty without justifiable complaint.

In the opinion of many competent observers, the United States could not have won without the blunders of the opposition, which include the mysterious failure of its Russian backers to provide planes. The North Koreans were let down hard by their pals in the Kremlin.

On the credit side is the prestige gained by closing the issue with the Communist aggressors. The United States and the United Nations won respect.

There also is the awakening to the realities of what the Communist conspiracy is capable of cooking up for the United States and its Allies. This may prove to be the most important net gain in the long run.

But there is no excuse for smugness. The men who did the fighting cannot be praised too much. But they do not want praise. They want to have the satisfaction of knowing their efforts were not wasted.

Most of all, they want to be assured that they will not be the goats again for the kind of fumbling which almost handed Korea to the Communists on a platter.

Color TV In Doubt

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

FCC Fails To Set Standard

THERE HAS BEEN only one positive result from the recent Federal Communications Commission report on color television. It has everybody who has any connection with TV, including the viewers, seeing red.

Although the report said that CBS has the best system, it failed to settle the issue and set all future standards so that CBS's color system would be adopted once and for all. It leaves CBS still on the hook, unable to go ahead full steam with plans to televise color.

The report obviously leaves RCA and its subsidiary NBC very unhappy by putting CBS so close to the finish line. The fact that there still is a chance for NBC color to get the nod, in spite of the seeming long odds against it, forces them to continue spending money on the development and promotion of their system. It's like adding weight to a horse while it is running second, but making the jockey whip it to the finish anyway.

Set manufacturers are the most put upon by the peculiar report. It says that if they will start making sets that are adaptable to CBS-type color systems, the FCC will hold up on a decision on which system it will adopt for several months. It also says that if the set makers don't agree to do this the CBS system will promptly be declared the only system.

THE GIMMICK in this is that all the set manufacturers should get together, as the FCC suggests that they do, and decide one way or another on whether to make sets adaptable to all color systems, they might all easily be subject to prosecution by the Department of Justice for violation of the anti-trust laws. As a result, instead of getting the manufacturers together for the good of the industry, the FCC has forced them to stay apart by putting the color decision in their hands.

But no matter what the bad effects of the report are on the television industry, as usual it's going to the John Q. Televuever who foots the bill for the FCC's shilly-shallying on the issue. If the manufacturers are somehow able to get together without getting in trouble with the Department of Justice and agree to make all future sets with color adapters, the bill to the public will be tremendous. Each new set will be in the neighborhood of $30 more than they are today.

And that $30 doesn't give the buyer color reception. The adapter which the FCC wants the set makers to put in new sets only permits black and white reception of CBS-type color broadcasts. If you want color you've still got to buy a gadget called a converter, which will cost you a minimum of $75 more.

We still haven't considered the real pioneers in video yet in this discussion, the 8,000,000 persons who have TV sets in their homes. If the manufacturers of sets go along with the FCC recommendation of building adapters in all future sets, today's set owner will have to put one on his set to get only black and white reception of color telecasts and then add the converter if he wants color reception, too. This cost, it is estimated, is in the neighborhood of $1.25 billion.

If you're confused, so is the FCC, the set manufacturers, CBS and NBC.

THERE'S ONE gent, however, who claims he isn't confused about color TV. He's TV set owner Charles E. V. Prins, a Washington public relations man who has helped organize a non-profit organization called the "Televuevers Association." It's his opinion that present and future set owners aren't willing to pay the high extra price for color. He says:

"The FCC is trying to give us a television welfare state by ramming color down our throats when they're not sure anybody wants color. During the months of hearings on the subject by the FCC practically no one was asked to speak for the set owners."

"Practically none of the best movies are in color and most of the nation's advertising, which is in the newspapers, is in black and white. I think this report of the FCC has actually set real color back 10 years."

Health To You

Many Viruses Cause Colds

ALL of today's questions deal with the problems involving the breathing apparatus.

Q—Every winter my seven-year-old girl gets one cold after another and by spring is very much run down. Also she misses a lot of school, and I am afraid she will fall behind. Is there anything which can be done about this? F.S.A.

A—This kind of thing is all too common. Colds are caused by viruses but unfortunately there are several different kinds, so that one cold does not build any lasting resistance to another. Also there is no vaccine which has been found of practical use in preventing colds. In very severe cases of this sort, one has to consider moving to a milder climate. There is also definite hope in the fact that many youngsters who have frequent colds seem to outgrow their difficulty in a few years.

Q—My nine-year-old daughter has a bronchial condition all winter, but even in the warm weather she continues to cough. Allergy tests show that she is sensitive to pecans and tea, neither of which she has ever had in her life, and to June grass. What do you think about this? Mrs. E. B.

A—Your daughter is faced with a complicated problem. Quite likely the bronchitis which she had during the winter was caused by infection with germs although it is also possible that it was an allergic condition due to sensitiveness to molds or something of the sort. The fact that the trouble continued in warm weather indicates either rather severe damage to the bronchial tubes, or continued sensitiveness to something in the air or food. All these questions will have to be carefully studied by the physician.

Q—Why can't anything be done for the flu? Last winter our whole family had it, and I would think that by now the medical profession should have some answers.

R. L. P.
A—I don't blame you for being discouraged. Research workers have already done a lot on influenza and know much more about it than 20 years ago. Nevertheless this has proved to be a very complicated disease, and so far there is no good way of preventing it. A vaccine may come, however, and it is possible that one of the antibiotics will prove useful. Hardly anyone dies of the flu, except during the great epidemics, and even then much of the trouble comes from getting out of bed too early, and catching pneumonia.

Q—My mother who is 67 has had three attacks of lobar pneumonia in the last two years. She was treated with penicillin each time, but I am worried about her getting it again. What do you think?

Mrs. C. L.
A—Your mother is evidently one of those people who has become sensitive to the pneumococcus which is the germ causing lobar pneumonia. It would be wise to consider moving her to a mild climate where she is less likely to come in contact with this germ. If this is not possible, then she should take every precaution to avoid exposure to people with bad colds or other infections of the breathing passages.

It Looks Like a Hard Winter, Mate!

Harold Stassen's Peace Appeal

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON
HAROLD Stassen's approach to Stalin reflects the simple approach of the average man—trying to sit down with the other fellow and reason with him.

This is an American concept of persuasion but in the case of Stalin it falls to the ground because the Soviet chief has been guilty of sanctioning perfidy and crime. Nine out of ten persons in the United States today would probably not accept any words of Stalin or any agreement or pledge made by his government as worth the paper it is written on.

Even Harold Stassen's own letter points out that the American people are interested in deeds or action—not words or documents.

If the Kremlin has any intention of changing its policies, it would not need an invitation from any group of private citizens in America to bring about such a change.

There is no doubt that if the Soviet Union does want to change and wishes to use the Stassen letter as an excuse, such a shift would be welcomed by the world as a significant gesture—but the world would also await proof of sincerity in deeds before accepting any such gesture as real.

The trouble with the Stassen proposal is that it is addressed to criminals. It comes after the Kremlin has engineered an aggression in North Korea and brought about the organized murder of thousands of civilians.

Any government which sanctions such cruelty is not entitled to further consideration except by those governments afraid of the Kremlin or bent on appeasement as an easy way out of a crisis.

THE SOVIET government has shown itself incapable of fulfilling international obligations. It has trifled with the United Nations and obstructed its progress. It has lied to the world through its propaganda machine and caused thousands of its agents to foment strikes and otherwise to interfere with the economic life of friendly countries.

But, worst of all, the Soviet regime has dishonored its pledges given at Potsdam and Yalta and has occupied territory it never was awarded. It has also failed to liberate tens of thousands of prisoners of war from Germany and Japan.

Such a government isn't deserving of the Stassen approach or the visit of any mission. Such a government deserves only to be condemned by the world and outlawed or isolated as a moral leper.

The sooner American policy begins to accept the stark fact that there will be no peace in the world until the Russian people are aroused to change their government, the sooner will the menace of war be removed.

The Stassen maneuver will be regarded indifferently by the Truman administration. The government here did not know of the plan in advance or would certainly have discouraged it. But now that the plan has been made public, the administration doubtless will let the proposal find its own position in the court of public opinion. It will not be high.

FORTUNATELY, the Stassen letter did not of itself invite any appeasement or reveal any conflict with the main aims of American foreign policy. It is within the law because the Logan Act merely forbids a citizen from negotiating with a foreign government by purporting to represent the U.S. government. Stassen doesn't profess to represent the State Department. The policy of Secretary Acheson has been to hold open the door to negotiation. But neither the Acheson program nor the Stassen approach will get anywhere with the Kremlin. Those Americans who think the Russians are discouraged by the Korean episode will soon be disillusioned. The defiant attitude of the Chinese Communists in the last few days shows that there is no fear of American policy—military or otherwise. The Chinese Communists, moreover, backed by Russia, undoubtedly expect to be admitted into the U.N. with American acquiescence.

The Soviets have succeeded in hamstringing the U.N. in the last few weeks. Why should the Soviets give in now when they are making what undoubtedly seems to them great propaganda progress? If they answer Harold Stassen at all, it will be only to reiterate their past views, possibly even engaging with him in another conference of words.

There is no sign that the Soviet Union has as yet been impressed with either the moral or physical force of the U.N. or its members. The drift is toward eventual conflict unless the people of the Soviet Union get rid of the willful men who today attempt to rule them and the satellite countries. Persistent appeals to the Russian people to prevent war is the only strategy open to the free nations.

Red Korea

By HAL BOYLE

ROK Soldiers Cross Boundary

NORTH KOREA

HERE is what it is like above the 38th Parallel in North Korea.

An exhausted South Korean soldier sleeps in a muddy ditch, his unheeding head pillowed in the yellow dust of the roadway.

Two lines of bone-weary South Korean doughboys limp past over the stones and ruts of the road he has trudged along for more than a fortnight from deep in South Korea.

The stones have worn to tatters the rubber-soled shoes of some soldiers and they have replaced them with peasant slippers of rice straw.

But they manage a sweat-strained grin as they pass. A battered truck wheezes by—so decrepit it could be held together only by the corale of the men in it. It looks like a sardine can on wheels. But troops jammed in it are singing, shouting and waving small black, red and white flags of the Korean Republic.

The marching troops look at the riders enviously, then turn their heads to the yellow road and break into the shuffling trot typical of their infantry.

Marching with them and shouldering part of their equipment are 20 or more boys under 10 years old. They are camp followers attracted by the joy of going with the winning army—and getting a bowl of free rice. A soldier pointed to a smiling eight-year-old carrying a load of mortar shells and said: "He's my house boy."

BEHIND THE column slowly stumbles a line of civilian laborers. Each is burdened with a wooden pack to which is tied a fresh cut log almost as wide as the road and more than six inches thick. The logs are used to break the back of a longshoreman but the Korean workers apparently can tote them for miles.

And behind them for hours come soldier stragglers—men too worn out to keep the killing pace, middle-aged men limping painfully, young wounded men with blood-stained bandages on cheeks, arms and legs.

But they want to catch up with the column, for there are no kitchen trucks in this army to wheel back the rice ration. Several trucks roll by within inches of the head of the soldier at the edge of the roadway. He sleeps on unheeding, then awakens, paws at his drowsy eyes, yawns and shuffles on.

He looks indifferently down at the wreckage of a heavily loaded truck that has just plunged off the road and overturned in a paddy field.

The driver is crawling out holding a dangling, bleeding hand which looks so shattered one knows it must be amputated. But this is an Oriental army. The soldier, with troubles of his own, lowers his eyes to the must and keeps on shuffling.

Some distance back he also passed with equal indifference a large sign lettered in a language he doesn't understand. The language is English and the sign says:

"You are crossing the 38th Parallel. Courtesy of the Third ROK (Republic of Korea) Division. We were first."

THIS IS THE arbitrary line that since 1945 has divided Korea's industrial north from its agricultural south. It is the line that separated the Russian and American occupation of the country at the end of the last war.

It is the line from which an army representing 10,000,000 Communist-dominated zones after the Japanese were thrown North Koreans began a civil war June 25. They crossed the line to invade the territory where 20,000,000 Koreans lived under the U.N.-sponsored Republic of Korea.

On the map the 38th Parallel is a special neat straight black line.

But as the ROK doughboy plods on north beyond the frontier he sees no painted demarcation or chalkmark across the winding road. To his right is the peaceful blue Sea of Japan where an American destroyer swims lazily. To his left are valleys of ripening rice and rugged, yellow eroded hills with stunted, wind-twisted pine trees and cut by dry tortuous ravines.

The hills also are scarred by army-dug ditches and pockmarked with well camouflaged empty concrete bunkers and pillboxes.

Some of the South Korean army's prepared defensive positions are north of 38. Some of the more heavily fortified posts of the North Korean army are still south of that artificial boundary. Each army has followed the time-proved military principle of building a defense line along the natural pattern of the hills.

That is how the 38th Parallel looks to the individual South Korean infantryman and it is doubtful if he even knows he has crossed the line. The men nearest to war usually know the least about it—except its dangers.

The slimmest of the autumn dinner dress is often handled in a manner which creates an impression of movement. This fullness sometimes bursts from the knee line, is achieved with a panel or through the adroit use of drapery.

One slim dinner dress which displays the deceptive use of drapery (left) is raspberry silk and wool. A surprise bodice gives the longer-waist effect and is finished off by a huge draped bow at the hipline. Stiffened wing lapels arch over very short sleeves.

Another such dinner dress is in gray antique sparkle crepe (right) with a sari-stole flowing from one shoulder. The draped skirt attains its fullness from a circle of ruching on one hip. This ruching is also used to emphasize the high jewelry neckline. The long sleeves are tight and very slim at the wrist.

He has already stayed up two days longer than did T. J. Ward of Savannah, Ga., the previous record holder. Ward took the title from Charley Lupica who stayed up 117 days last year unsuccessfully waiting for the Cleveland Indians to take first place in the American League.

As a penalty for losing a challenge race, Norman mounted the pole last spring. In September his wife had given birth to their first son, Rick.

Draft Questions Up For Discussion

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—(AP) Two of the top men in the nation's new mobilization-for-defense lineup today sought an agreement on manpower use.

One point at issue was just who should be subject to draft into the armed services, and who deferred to meet scientific and technical needs of the mobilization program.

W. Stuart Symington, mobilization coordinator, arranged the luncheon meeting with Secretary of Defense Marshall and Secretary of Labor Tobin, to whom President Truman has assigned top manpower responsibilities.

Symington said yesterday he wanted to try for "an overall, agreed policy."

At the same time, he disagreed with some of the tough draft ideas advanced by Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service chief.

Reward Offered For Sen. Taft's Assailant

CANTON, Oct. 6—The village council at nearby Waynesburg offered a $100 reward today to anyone who can find the person who hit Sen. Robert Taft with a ripe tomato last week.

Sen. Taft was struck on the chest last Wednesday while making a political speech. Several other tomatoes fell harmlessly at his feet. But he took scant notice and continued his speech.

"This unfortunate incident has been terribly embarrassing to the good people of the village," the council said.

Mayor Ralph Sicksafoose added that "we want the person prosecuted to the limit."

Sen. Taft said after his address that the town had helped to make up for the incident by presenting him with a basket of flowers.

Lewis Replies To Dog Catcher Letter

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—(AP)—John L. Lewis said yesterday President Truman couldn't appoint him dog catcher because he "could ill afford to have more brains in the dog department than in the Department of State."

And if he were dog catcher, Lewis said, his first duty "would be to collect and impound the sad dogs, the intellectual poodle dogs and the pusillanimous pups which now infest our State Department."

Lewis, leader of the United (coal) Mine Workers, discoursed on his qualifications for dog catcher in a letter to State Senator Neal Bishop of Colorado. He gave copies to reporters.

In Denver, Bishop had disclosed yesterday that President Truman wrote him a letter in 1949 saying that "I wouldn't appoint John L. Lewis dog catcher."

Bishop, an old friend of the President's, had written him a facetious suggestion that Lewis be appointed ambassador to Russia because he "has a more formidable appearance than Stalin; roars 'no' louder than Gromyko; hurls more choice invectives and quotations from the classics in his oratory than Vishinsky; out-negotiates Molotov at the conference table—as any mine operator will testify — and Lewis would be in Moscow."

Farmers Important, Ferguson Tells Them

TOLEDO, Oct. 6—(AP)—If Joseph T. Ferguson is elected to the senate, he says his first big job will be to represent Ohio's farmers.

"You and I know," he told an audience at Celina last night, "that the farmers of this nation constitute the most important single group of people in this country."

Ferguson, Ohio's Democratic state auditor, comes to Toledo today on the next leg of his campaign for the senatorial job held by Robert A. Taft, Republican.

It is his contention that the record "proves" that Taft is "against" the farmers.

DiMaggio's Blast Puts Phillies In Poor Spot

THIRD BASEMAN Mike Goliat tags home plate to bring home the Philadelphia Phillies' first run of the 1950 world series in the second game with the New York Yankees at Shibe Park, Philadelphia. In the fifth inning, Goliat led off with a single, went to third on a high-hopping Eddie Waitkus single, and scored on a deep fly by Richie Ashburn. Dick Sisler gives the signal not to slide. Umpire is Bill McGowan.

Play Moves To Yankee Stadium

Lopat Twirls Today; Phil Choice Secret

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK, Oct. 6—(AP)—Only a miracle comeback can save the hitless Phillies now as the World Series moved into cavernous Yankee Stadium with New York holding a 2-0 edge. One home run blast by "the same old Joe DiMaggio" put the Phils on this desperate spot.

Not since the 1921 New York Giants, has a club won after losing the first two series games. And that was back in the days of the best-of-nine series.

Talk of "four straight" buzzes in Yankee ears with the odds 1 to 15 on the American Leaguers to cop their 13th world title. Some 70,000 fans will be on hand for the Phils first visit.

Yankee Ed Lopat (18-8) is a 5 to 12 choice over either Ken Heintzelman (3-9) or Bob Miller (11-6) for today's third game at 1 p. m. Manager Eddie Sawyer will pick his starter in the clubhouse before batting practice.

NO MIRACLE—but only a timely base hit—was needed to rescue the Phils in the first two games when they lost 1-0 and 2-1 in 10 innings on DiMaggio's home run. Now they are fresh out of pitchers like Robin Roberts and Jim Konstanty who can be counted on to chill sluggers like the Yankees.

Sawyer has no complaints about the excellent jobs of his first two pitchers. They contained the Yankee power hitters like Yogi Berra and Johnny Mize. They put the shackles on DiMaggio until he rocketed Robert's pitch in the upper left field seats yesterday afternoon. But this is the end of the line. Now the batters figure to cut loose.

Lopat, a chunky lefthander with a knuckler, screwball, slider and a little bit of everything except a fast ball, may not match Vic Raschi and Allie Reynolds in effectiveness. Still, in the vast confines of the stadium, Lopat can be expected to pitch his usual steady, capable game. To succeed he must continue to check the righthanded power of Del Ennis and Andy Seminick, strangely silent in the early games.

It could be that Sawyer already has made up his mind to pitch Miller but doesn't want the youngster to worry about the job overnight. A handsome rookie who made the big hop from Terre Haute, Ind. to the majors in one season, Miller won his first eight starts. His best pitch is a sinking fast ball. Since mid-September, the 24-year-old rookie has been troubled by a sore shoulder. In his last two starts he pitched fine ball in the early innings but weakened badly.

Heintzelman, a grey-thatched southpaw of 35 years, might have the "nothing stuff" to fool the free-swinging Yankees. He didn't win a game from May 8 to Sept. 15 but hung up 17 victories in 1949. If Heintzelman pitches, Manager Casey Stengel probably will shuffle his New York line-up to play Billy Johnson at third base instead of Brown.

"We can't be any worse in the Yankee stadium," said Sawyer last night, "maybe our kids will snap out of it. We'll play our usual game and score some runs—I hope."

SAWYER summed up the Phils troubles neatly when he said, "It looks like we need four bases on balls to score."

It took a bad-hop single over Coleman's head to drive in the lone Phil run of the series in the fifth inning yesterday. Time after time they left the big run on base. In the eighth and ninth, they hit into rally ending double plays.

After DiMaggio's homer they still had a chance to bounce back against Reynolds. They moved pinch hitter Jack Mayo to second base with one out in the last of the tenth. But he died on second as Richie Ashburn and Sisler failed.

DiMaggio's blow, his first series hit, ruined Roberts. The Yanks nicked the Phil 20-game winner for 10 hits. Still he staved off disaster until Stengel's "big fellow" lined his seventh World Series homer into the laps of the gaping customers.

Bucks Appear Set For Pitt

Backfield Switch Sharpens OSU Offense

COLUMBUS, Oct. 6—(AP)—Ohio State's fuming footballers have shaken off the SMU blues. Appearing red hot and ready to roll in practice this week, the Bucks are looking for a big day against Pittsburgh's not-too-potent Panthers in Saturday's stadium clash before 74,000 fans.

Transfer of Vic Janowicz to left half has added a new sparkle to an offense which needed little fixing, and the Bucks have been working hard to plug the pass defense holes which showed so glaringly as the Texas Mustangs hit the airways for four touchdowns in the last 20 minutes to win 32-27.

The high-geared Buck offense, and the defensive corps which held SMU to a minus-seven yardage on the ground, gives the Ohioans a decided pre-game edge over the Panthers, who lost 20-14 to Duke a week ago.

A good pass offense appears to be the only threat against the Bucks, and the Panthers haven't shown one yet. Against Duke they threw 11 times, completing five and having four intercepted.

AFTER WATCHING SMU storm from behind to snatch the inaugural, the Bucks are in a mood to go all out, all the way.

Then, too, they can't be too smug about the Panthers in view of the last three games with Pitt, in which the Ohioans were favored. Pittsburgh turned in a stunning 12-0 upset over the Bucks in 1947, dropped a 41-0 game in 1948, and had Ohio on the run a year ago until a third-period break gave the Buckeyes a 14-10 conquest and sent them another step on their way to the Rose Bowl.

Ohio has all the better of it in weight and reserves. Pitt changes only one man when it shifts from offense to defense, while the Bucks change eight players. Quarterback Bobby Bestwick is the only Panther who goes to the sidelines when Pitt loses the ball. Joe Schmidt taking over the defensive chore.

Pitt's all-duty line averages 208, but Ohio's offensive wall stacks up at 207, and the defense at 214. The Panthers will lose a lot of weight after the game as John Huzvar, 235-pound fullback, reports to the Marines Sunday.

The invaders are due in Columbus at 2:05 p. m. today, and have a workout scheduled immediately on the stadium turf. The Bucks will follow them for a brief limbering-up session.

Dayton's Ball Club Switches To St. Louis

DAYTON, Oct. 6—(AP)—Reorganization of the Class A Dayton Indians of the Central League was underway today under the new affiliation of the St. Louis Browns' farm system.

All players of the Dayton club—which formerly had a working agreement with the Cleveland Indians—are being reassigned. Five have gone to the San Diego club in the Pacific Coast League. San Diego is affiliated with the Indians.

Dr. Warren G. Bradford, president of the Dayton club, said yesterday an agreement was signed with the Browns in Philadelphia. The agreement affiliated Dayton with the Class AA San Antonio club of the Texas League. San Antonio also is a part of the Browns' farm system. The Dayton franchise is owned by Bill Veck, former president of the Cleveland Indians; Rudy Schaffer, business manager of the Indians, and Dr. Bradford.

Writers Now Reviving "Fizz Kids" For Phillies

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—(AP)—This isn't Brooklyn, that's for sure. The bleacherites didn't start to form their line in front of the Yankee Stadium until yesterday morning. And at that there were only two diehards. The gendarmes chased the pair, but told them their spot at the head of the line would be reserved in the early evening.

Many of the writers were consulting the Phillies on their "moral" victory in holding the Yanks to three runs in two games—something like North Carolina keeping Notre Dame to a 14-7 victory last Saturday. But catcher Ken Silvestri summed it up best:

"What's the difference whether it's one run or 10 runs? We got beat, didn't we?"

What happened to all the talk about the rabbit ball? The theory is beginning to go around that maybe the pitching in both leagues has been so gosh-awful that the hitters have been looking good even if they normally had no power.

INCIDENTALLY, Billy Dickey, the Yankee coach, said that Robin Roberts, the young Phillie hurler, who lost yesterday's 2-1, 10-inning affair, is the best young righthander in either league. TV man Dizzy Dean, no slouch in his day in the big time, agreed.

The odds on the Yankees have jumped to 1-15. Only one team in the history of the series has rebounded after losing the first two games. The Giants did it in 1921 and the Pirates came from behind a 3-1 deficit once.

Al Schacht, the "clown prince of baseball," returned to Yankee Stadium to entertain the customers with his antics, after missing the last two Series because of illness.

Here's a postscript on the hotel robbery in which Yank pitcher Vic Raschi and his wife lost many valuables: Just before he left for the game the day of the robbery, Vic placed $3,000 in players' Series ticket money in the hotel safe.

ANOTHER OF Babe Ruth's records won't be threatened. Nope, you guessed wrong—it isn't a slugging mark; it's in pitching. The Babe hurled 29 2/3 scoreless innings in Series competition. Allie Reynolds had thrown 16 2/3 innings until the Phils scored in the fifth.

Some skeptics are beginning to revive the takeoff on the Whiz Kids that followed them when they were reeling in the last week of the pennant chase—the fizz kids.

Report blowing around Series headquarters is that Branch Rickey is trying to buy the St. Louis Browns. Bill Veck also is said to have a bid in for the franchise.

Bobby Brown, the young medical doctor, and Yankee third baseman on the side, owns an astonishing .521 batting average for the three World Series in which he has participated. And he hit only .264 during the past season. Manager Stengel actually was thinking of keeping him on the bench.

Junior High Gridders Bow To Leetonia 12-0

After the game Salem's second team played a quarter with Leetonia's second team, winning 6-0. Kenny Swabugh galloped 60 yards for the TD.

Alex At Series

CLEVELAND, Oct. 6—(AP)—Grover Cleveland Alexander scheduled a trip out of here today on a commercial airline plane to the World Series at New York. He made an unscheduled stop here last night when the private plane he was flying in developed motor trouble. In 1915 Alexander who is now 63 years old pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to their first pennant.

Euel Davis, a tackle who never played a minute for Tulane at that position during the 1949 football season, is assistant freshman coach of the Green Wave now.

Questions and Answers

Q—What is the purpose of the Mars Army?

A—Mars stands for the Military Amateur Radio System conducted by the Army. The system is designed to train amateurs in military radio methods and provide an emergency communications network. Mars Army includes about 1950 amateurs throughout the United States and at military posts overseas.

In losing to the Jackson Army Air Base in 1944, the University of Mississippi football team did not draw a single penalty.

War Casualties Number 20,756

Defense Department
Lists 2,660 Killed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—(AP)—The Defense Department notified American families of 20,756 Korean casualties through Sept. 29.

This was an increase of 3,536 over the last previously announced total of 17,220 as of Sept. 22.

The cumulative total announced today included 2,660 killed in action, 13,953 wounded and 4,143 missing in action.

The total for wounded includes 294 who died of wounds, raising the number of battle dead to 2,954.

The figure for missing includes 193 men who have returned to military control, 73 known prisoners of war, leaving 3,877 still missing.

Army casualties reported through Sept. 29 totalled 19,290, of whom 2,403 were killed in action.

The Navy casualty total through Sept. 29 was 89, of whom 23 were killed in action.

The Marine Corps total for the period was 1,237. Of these, 190 were killed.

The Air Force casualties through Sept. 29 were 140. Forty-four were killed in action.

Insane Convict Eludes Lima Police

LIMA, Oct. 6—(AP)—Search for an insane escaped convict centered in this area today after the man abandoned a stolen car, broke in a store and twice eluded Lima police.

The state highway patrol maintained road blocks around Lima, and police watched all possible avenues of escape. The convict, described as "dangerous," is believed to be on foot.

The convict, Robert Preyer, 22, had been adjudged insane and was being taken to Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane yesterday when he escaped from an Ohio penitentiary officer at Kenton, 30 miles east of Lima. Preyer had been sentenced to the penitentiary last June for 1-15 years on a burglary charge from Crawford county.

The penitentiary officer, Lt. Tom Templeton, had slowed his car to cross a bridge on a Route 30-S detour when Preyer leaped from the auto. The convict then stole an auto in Kenton and roared out Route 67 to the west.

Polio Declines First Week Since In May

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—(AP)—Polio declined last week for the first time since the week ending May 20, the public health service said today.

The agency said this is the latest period in 20 years—except for 1932—that the disease apparently has passed its seasonal peak.

Health officers reported 1,994 new cases last week, 8 per cent less than in the preceding week.

The cumulative total since polio started increasing last March is 20,405 cases, compared with 32,204 for the corresponding period last year.

Thus 1950 is the third worst polio year on record thus far, exceeded only by the 1949 total and the 1916 figure, estimated at around 30,000.
